Princeton Class of 1960

45th Reunion Annual Giving Campaign

Bulletin #4

May 2005

Senior Year

Leaving Nassau Hall for one last time

Our last year we had come full circle; big men and athletic heroes were again a dime a dozen. But now there were three classes to look up to us. Even the University's "53 Million for Princeton" campaign couldn't overshadow our class big wheels... We all had carrels now, though many filled their shelves with books measured by the yard from near-by stacks and returned to other diverting social interests... Every weekend was the last of its kind in our Princeton career, so we had an excuse to make the best of them... Each thesis was to be the definitive work on the subject. But we all somehow developed Hamlet complexes; we waited, we neglected. The Firestone Library is located conveniently across from the Annex, and there it remained. We had the sophistication now to talk in precept on books we hadn't even read the preface to... "Breakfast in Bedlam" was the best Triangle show ever - [the] brilliant music was the hit of the evening... Three of our classmates were elected to study at Oxford as Rhodes Scholars and thirty-three others garnered Woodrow Wilson Fellowships... It is too early to write of the great sea of black robes, the awesome academic procession that is to come, the sheepskin that assures us of success... Well, Princeton's a grand place; it's been good for four years, why not another?

Nassau Herald, 1960

As our 45th Reunion approaches, we are again writing to encourage you to support our Annual Giving Campaign effort. Thus far, the 313 members of the Class of '60 (47.7%) who are listed on the back of this letter have contributed or pledged $1,257,000. To all of them, we give a hearty "thank you." But every gift, from the largest to the smallest, has important meaning to the University and to our Class. Your contribution inspires many classmates and reassures others, builds Class energy and pride, and demonstrates to outsiders that Princetonians are uniquely loyal to their alma mater.

We are expecting a good number of our great Class of '60 to attend Reunions on campus later this month, May 26th-29th. We are looking forward to seeing each other once again and sharing memories of those times we spent together in the very special place where we all lived, studied and grew up - The Best Old Place of All.
